DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-3, 5-7, 9, 10 and 12-14 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Pre-Grant Publication No. US 2004/0134977 A1 to O'Dwyer et al. and U.S. Patent No. 4,575,525 to Wacome et al.

O'Dwyer et al. discloses an envelope comprising front and rear panels, a seal flap, a polymeric adhesive comprising a vinyl acetate emulsion on the seal flap and a "volatile, water-insoluble essential oil such as orange oil" (see paragraph [0024]) that produces a taste upon application of moisture to the polymeric adhesive on the seal flap. However, O'Dwyer et al. does not disclose the vinyl acetate emulsion being an ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer. Wacome et al. discloses that is known in the art provide a dextrin emulsified ethylene vinyl acetate as a remoistenable adhesive in the manufacture of envelopes (column 1, lines 6-17). It would have been obvious to a person having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to provide the vinyl acetate emulsion in the polymeric adhesive of O'Dwyer et al. as the dextrin emulsified ethylene vinyl acetate copolymer of Wacome et al., in order to provide the envelope with superior adhesion without any loss in drying or gloss properties. Moreover, it has been held to be within the general skill of a worker in the art to select a known material on the basis of its suitability for the intended use as a matter of obvious design choice.

Furthermore, the inherent characteristics of the orange oil in O'Dwyer et al. meets the recitation of a flavor substance and fragrance corresponding to the flavor substance.

Furthermore, O'Dwyer et al. and Wacome et al. meet the method steps of claims 12-14, since O'Dwyer et al. and Wacome et al. meet the structure implied by those method steps.

Response to Arguments

3. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1-3, 5-7, 9, 10 and 12-14 have been considered but are moot in view of the new grounds of rejection.

Conclusion

Applicant is duly reminded that a complete response must satisfy the requirements of 37 C.F. R. 1.111, including: "The reply must present arguments pointing out the specific distinctions believed to render the claims, including any newly presented claims, patentable over any applied references. A general allegation that the claims "define a patentable invention" without specifically pointing out how the language of the claims patentably distinguishes them from the references does not comply with the requirements of this section. Moreover, "The prompt development of a clear Issue requires that the replies of the applicant meet the objections to and rejections of the claims." Applicant should also specifically point out the support for any amendments made to the disclosure. See MPEP 2163.06 II(A), MPEP 2163.06 and MPEP 714.02. The "disclosure" includes the claims, the specification and the drawings.
